

Laboratory Safety

In order to be able to work in a laboratory on campus, you need to complete some lab safety courses. You are required to take

- 1) Online Hazard Communication class,
- 2) Online General Lab Safety class. Classes 1 and 2 can be accessed at: <http://www.utexas.edu/safety/ehs/train/>,
- 3) The fire extinguisher class (not online but only takes an hour – the schedule is at <http://www.utexas.edu/safety/ehs/train/courses.html>)
- 4) Site specific training (hazard communication). If your faculty advisor requires this for his/her laboratory, you will need to schedule this directly with them after you have completed the online courses.

Your UT Electronic ID (EID) will allow you to sign up for the courses.
